

Handwritten notes and a sketch of a street layout, possibly a continuation or alternative plan of the main drawing. The text is partially illegible but appears to contain technical or descriptive information.

Vertical text and markings along the left margin of the drawing, including what appears to be a scale or reference line. The text is small and difficult to read, but includes some numbers and possibly street names.

Handwritten text 'pcc' located in the bottom-left corner of the drawing area.
