

STATE FOREST MAP OF PENNSYLVANIA

With State Highways, State Parks, Normal Schools, Game Preserves, Resources, Important Frontier Forts, Etc.

ISSUED BY THE
DEPARTMENT OF FORESTRY
1922

The people of Pennsylvania own the State Forests.
The State Forests produce wood, protect water supplies, promote health, and offer unsurpassed places for recreation.
Within the State Forests are many of the best places to rest, finest fishing streams, best hunting grounds, and grandest views.
The State Forests serve their full purpose only if protected against fire, insects and tree diseases.

Trees are cut from State Forests, but provision is always made for a future tree crop.
Money derived from the State Forests helps to support the public schools.
Everything we use is produced or transported with wood.
The people of Pennsylvania now secure four-fifths of their lumber from outside sources because of her idle forest lands.
Pennsylvania can supply her own timber needs if her forests are adequately protected and properly managed.
